KOCHI: Mahatma Gandhi University's grand art fiesta, the Union Youth Festival, will get under way in Kochi on Wednesday. Titled 'Aneka', the five-day festival will come to an end on Sunday.

According to the organisers, more than one lakh students from 209 colleges in five districts affiliated with the MGU will take part in the festival. "The events will be held in seven venues. Five venues have been set up at Maharaja's College, one each at Government Law College and the Durbar Hall ground. The one at the Durbar Hall ground will be the main stage," said one of the organisers.

The youth festival will start with a colourful procession followed by the inaugural function at the Durbar Hall. "Thiruvathirakali and Kerala Nadanam competitions will be held on the first day," said an organiser. The second day will see the mono act competitions, skit, bharathanatyam (male, female, transgender), mohiniyattam, kathakali, ottanthullal, aksharashlokam, 'kavyakeli', poetry recitations, quizzes, elocution, 'kavithaparayanam', essay writing (English, Malayalam), and short story (Hindi, Malayalam).

On the third day, folk dance, classical dances, instrumental music, light music, recitation, film review, on-the-spot painting, cartoon and essay competition will be held.

The stage will be set for mime, duff mutt, kolikali, western solo, group song, percussion, classical music, poster designing, photography, collage clay modelling and poetry writing on the fourth day. Oppana, mimicry and 'kathaprasangam' will be carried out on the last day.

Mayor M Anilkumar is the chairman and Arjun Babu is the general convener of the welcoming committee.

PATHANAMTHITTA: Actors Nanya Nair and Unni Mukundan along with musician Stephen Devassy inaugurated the five-day Mahatma Gandhi University youth festival at the district stadium in Pathanamthitta on Friday. A sea of people had gathered to witness the cultural procession held as part of the youth festival -- 'Wake Up Call 2022'. Health Minister Veena George, who is also the chairperson of the organising committee, presided over the function. Pro-Vice-Chancellor C T Aravindakumar delivered the keynote address.

As part of the inaugural function, Stephen Devassy staged a musical event. There are seven stages for the festival. District stadium (Sugathakumari Nagar) is the main venue. Royal auditorium (Nedumudi Venu Nagar), Catholicate College auditorium (Chrysostom Thirumeni Nagar), volleyball court of Catholicate College (KFC Lalitha Nagar), Mar Clemis hall of Catholicate College (S Ramesan Nagar), Eusebius hall of Catholicate College (Lata Mangeshkar Nagar) and English language hall of Catholicate College are the other venues. Notable personalities will attend the valedictory function of the youth festival on Tuesday.

Meanwhile, District Collector Divya S Iyer's dance with college students during a flash mob organised as part of the festival went viral on social media.

She danced with the students of Catholicate College, Pathanamthitta, on Thursday. The collector arrived to inaugurate 'Deepakazha' in connection with the festival. While she was enjoying the dance, the students approached her and asked if she could dance with them. She immediately accepted their invitation.

IDUKKI: The five-day youth festival of the Mahatma Gandhi University Union, 'Article 14', had a colourful start in Thodupuzha on Thursday evening. Minister for Higher Education K T Jaleel inaugurated the youth festival at a function held at Dr BR Ambedkar Nagar, the main venue of the fest, at Al Azhar College in Thodupuzha. Power Minister M M Mani presided over the function.

Earlier, a cultural procession was held in the town as a prelude to the inaugural ceremony. Idukki MP Dean Kurialkose flagged off the procession from Mangattukavala bus stand. The competitions will be held at eight different venues and they are--stage 1- Dr BR Ambedkar Nagar (school ground (main stage), stage 2- Dhakshayani Velayudheen Nagar (Engg college ground), stage 3- Fakruddeen Ali Nagar (arts college), stage 4- Sanavulla Khan Nagar (polytechnic auditorium), stage 5-JNU Nagar (law college 1st floor), stage 6- Gawri Lankesh Nagar (arts college seminar hall), stage 7-Fathima Latheef Nagar (BDS college seminar hall) and stage 8-Simon Britto Nagar (school auditorium).

As many as 13,000 students from various colleges, including self-financing colleges, in Idukki, Kottayam, Alappuzha, Pathanamthitta and Kochi districts which are affiliated to the university will take part in the fest. The competitions began with 'Thiruvathira' followed by Mime and Bharatanatyam (boys).

Govt to file appeal on ban on strikes on campuses
Jaleel said the state government would file an appeal against a High Court order banning student protests on college campuses. "The government is planning to introduce a Bill to legalise student union activities on campuses," he said.

KOTTAYAM: The five-day youth festival of Mahatma Gandhi University Union, 'Alathalam-2019', had a colourful start in Kottayam on Thursday afternoon. Hundreds of students from various colleges participated in the cultural procession that marked the beginning of the festival.

The procession, which was flagged off from the Old Police Station ground in the afternoon, concluded at Thirunakkara, which is the main venue. Traditional art and dance forms were featured during the procession, which caught the attention of Kottayam natives.

The main venue was a melange of colours and sounds as students who took part in the procession and their teachers began occupying the seats inside by the evening. Actor Harisree Ashokan inaugurated the festival at a function held at Thirunakkara ground in the evening. University union chairman Nikhil S presided over. Actors Miya George and Tasveer Muhammad, Suresh Kurup MLA, V N Vasavan and others were present.

According to the organisers, around 10,000 students from around 300 colleges are expected to vie for honours in the five-day event. As many as 58 events will be conducted in seven venues which will be set up at Thirunakkara ground as well as CMS, Basilio, and BCM Colleges.

On

Restructuring Kerala Economy: Alternative Perspectives

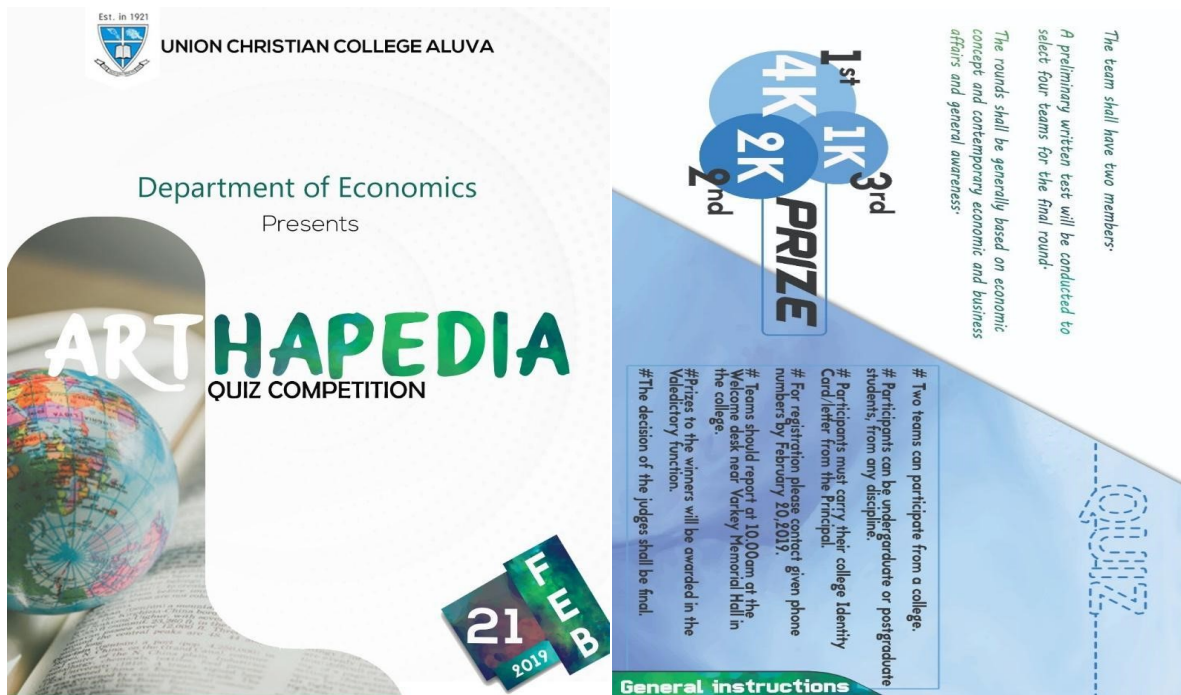

Dates: 21-23 January, 2019

On the Conference

Kerala's economy had witnessed structural changes during the period of 1980-81 to 2010-11 although the sustainability of the trajectory of growth during this period remains debatable. One of the structural changes is the sharp reduction in the share of primary sector in Gross State Domestic Product with the corresponding decline in employment share. The service sector-led growth did not offer employment opportunities that would match its returns. The process of industrialization failed to take off as is evident from the falling share of income from the secondary sector. According to the Kerala State Planning Board reports, growth in the state economy has been declining recently. For instance, the GSDP growth rate that continuously stood above the national average began to show a declining trend from 2012-2013. It further slipped to 8.6 percent in 2015-2016, when the national average stood at 9.9 percent.

Another major factor that affected the state was the decreased inflow of foreign remittances. As a result, the activities in the state, particularly in the fields of construction, trade and real estate
